NOTE ON TENTH EDITION.

The Handbook of Information, of which 10,000 copies are annually distributed, is now issued for the tenth time by the British India and Queensland Agency Company, Limited, Brisbane.

It has become a standard book of reference in Australasia, not only in commercial circles, but also amongst the general and travelling public.

Containing as it does a description of the 5,000 miles run taken by the A.U.S.N. steamers from Western Australia to the extreme north of Queensland, as well as notes on New Caledonia, Fiji, and New Guinea, intending passengers will find in it much useful information, together with some thirty-three views of ports called at by the steamers, and places of interest reached therefrom.

The demand for the Handbook has in past years exceeded the supply, and the British India and Queensland Agency Company issue it again with every confidence that it will be as kindly received and appreciated as heretofore.

We must apologise for the unavoidable delay in publishing the present issue.

PRESS NOTICES ON NINTH EDITION, 1896-97.

THE NORTH-WEST POST, Devonport, Tasmania, 13th August, 1896. —"The concise Customs tariffs of the different colonies make it a valuable work for the commercial man."

LAKE WAKATIP MAIL, Queenstown, 24th July, 1896. —"In addition to the illustrations three excellent charts are given in connection with the services of the combined companies."

THE GERALDTON EXPRESS AND MURCHISON GOLDFIELDS NEWS, Geraldton, 7th August, 1896.—"The Handbook must, for the purposes of reference, prove of immense use to commercial men."

THE ADVERTISER, Albany, 1st August, 1896.—"The guide, which, by the way, is issued gratuitously, is an excellent publication."

THE COLONIST, Nelson, 28th July, 1896.—"Will be found extremely useful by tourists and business men."

THE ADVERTISER, Adelaide, 27th June, 1896.—"Its postal, telegraphic, and marine information is most complete."

NELSON EVENING MAIL, 27th July, 1896.—"As usual the book is replete with fine illustrations."

THE COUNTRY, Adelaide, 11th July, 1896. —"The illustrations are exceedingly good."

THE CHRONICLE, Adelaide, 4th July, 1896.—"The book is certainly all that it claims to be."

THE CHRISTIAN PIONEER, Melbourne, 16th July, 1896.—"The work is splendidly got up."

THE INDEPENDENT, Sydney, 15th July, 1896.—"It contains a large amount of information, carefully compiled to date."

TORRES STRAITS PILOT, 4th July, 1896.—"The descriptive portion of the book is one of absorbing interest, and is greatly enhanced by photo reproductions."

THE NARRABRI AGE, 10th July, 1896.—"It can be safely stated that the work has taken its place as a standard book of reference."

MURCHISON TIMES AND DAY DAWN GAZETTE, 1st July, 1896.—"This is an exceedingly good production."

EVENING POST, New Zealand, 25th July, 1896.—"It is, as usual, full of information of the utmost value to travellers."

THE QUEENSLAND MERCANTILE GAZETTE, 4th July, 1896.—"The amount of useful information contained between its pictorial covers is surprising, and indicates an amount of careful collating which is unusual in such presentations. The descriptive text displays considerable literary ability, and conveys information, statistical and geographical, in such concise and accurate form that the labour of research is unnecessary."

THE BARCOO INDEPENDENT, 3rd July, 1896.—"The work is splendidly illustrated. . . . . Amongst other useful matter, there are the Australasian tariffs, so arranged as to show at a glance the duties leviable on goods of any class."

THE STANDARD AND SPORTING NEWS, Adelaide, South Australia, 27th June, 1896.—"An up-to-date book of information."

THE MERCURY, Hobart, 14th July, 1896.—"A most useful publication, especially to merchants, shippers, and travellers."

THE ST. GEORGE STANDARD, 20th June, 1896.—"It is well got up, largely illustrated, and altogether a most interesting and creditable production."

THE TASMANIAN DEMOCRAT, Launceston, 14th August, 1896.—"No traveller should be without it."

THE STANDARD, Ipswich, 4th July, 1896.—"The work is very carefully compiled."

Original from HARVARD UNIVERSITY

SYDNEY BULLETIN, 18th June, 1896. –"Altogether the guide is an exceedingly useful and compendious publication, reflecting much credit on all connected with it."

THE MACKAY MERCURY, 18th June, 1896. –Affords a large amount of reliable and up-to-date information."

THE MACKAY STANDARD, 19th June, 1896.––"The description of the voyage from Albany to Burketown, round two-thirds of the Australian coast-line, is very vivid, and the publication is in every way quite up to date."

THE GLADSTONE OBSERVER, 23rd June, 1896.—"The printing is clear and the illustrations numerous and well selected."

QUEENSLAND FIGARO, Brisbane, 19th June, 1896.—"The 'Handbook' is an evidence of the enterprise of the A.U.S.N. Company."

NEWCASTLE HERALD, June, 1896.—"A pleasing feature of the work is the wealth of illustrations contained in it."

THE BRISBANE TELEGRAPH, 13th June, 1896.—"A cursory glance through its pages impresses one with admiration at the perfection of its get-up."

BUNDABERG STAR, 18th June, 1896.—"It is a most useful companion for travellers."

THE BRISBANE COURIER, 11th June, 1896.––"It has come to be recognised as a really valuable office and travelling companion."

THE LAURA STANDARD, 23rd October, 1896.—"It is a marvellous work both for typography, charts, and illustrations. . . . . The 'Handbook' will prove a veritable 'guide, philosopher, and friend.'"

THE WESTERN MORNING NEWS, 2nd September, 1896.—" . . . . this well produced book a mass of classified knowledge not to be obtained elsewhere in a similarly convenient form."

THE WESTERN INDEPENDENT, 29th August, 1896.—The volume contains a mass of interesting details relating to a comparatively unknown land."

THE EVENING STAR AND BRUNNERTON ADVOCATE, 12th August, 1896.—"The volume is full of general interest to the reader, besides giving accurate information regarding travelling dates and charges."

DAILY TELEGRAPH, Napier, New Zealand, 1st August, 1896.—"The book should be in the hands of all who travel through the colonies and the islands."

EVENING NEWS, Napier, 1st August, 1896.—"Is copiously illustrated."

WESTPORT NEWS, Westport, New Zealand, 6th August, 1896.—"The purpose of the 'Handbook' is to supply travellers with concise information, and this is well accomplished."

LAUNCESTON EXAMINER, 8th August, 1896.––"It is, as usual, replete with useful information."

Combined Service of the West Australian Steam Navigation Co.

AND

Ocean Steamship Co.

BETWEEN

Fremantle, North-West Australian Ports, and Singapore

(Calling at Java if Inducement Offers).

S.S. "AUSTRALIND"	-	1,019 Tons Register.
S.S. "SALADIN"	- -	2,000 Tons Register.
S.S. "SULTAN"	- - -	2,063 Tons Register.

THESE magnificent Steamers, with Passenger Accommodation unequalled on the North-West Coast, fitted with Smoking, Music, and Ice Rooms, Baths, and every comfort and convenience for a tropical voyage, and installed with the electric light throughout, trade between Fremantle and Singapore, calling at all ports on the North-West Coast of Western Australia, leaving Fremantle alternately about every twenty-one days.

These Steamers connect at Singapore with the Ocean Steamship Company's Line of Steamers, which are noted for their comfortable passenger accommodation and excellent table. The Ocean Steamers carry a Doctor. An O.S.S. Co.'s Steamer leaves Singapore for London every week, viâ Penang and Suez Canal (sometimes also calling at Colombo and Algiers). Singapore, for China and Japan, departures every fortnight. The W.A. Steamers also connect with the British India Line of Steamers from Singapore to Indian Ports every week.

Passengers with through tickets for London are kept in Singapore at the Companies' expense until the departure of the first steamer for London, either on board steamer or at an hotel, at the Companies' option.

All steamers load and discharge at the Tanjong Pagar Wharf, Singapore, so that no expense or trouble is incurred in changing steamers.

FARES TO LONDON

(From any Western Australian Port not South of Fremantle):—

Saloon - - - - -	£45 0 0
Intermediate - - - -	£25 0 0
Saloon to Singapore and Intermediate thence to London -	£31 10 0

The time on passage from Singapore to London occupies about thirty-two days, and the full time occupied from Fremantle to London should average about fifty to fifty-three days, and from Cossack about forty-five days.

This route, which for the greater part of the voyage is usually in smooth water, is most interesting and varied, offering travellers an opportunity of seeing the Nor'-West Ports, the beautiful Straits of Lombok or Bali, and the charming Islands in the Java Sea, as also the picturesque port of Singapore.

Saloon Return Tickets for London are issued for two years, and are available for return either by the same route or the line of direct steamers to Fremantle viâ Cape.

Goods Carried at Through Rates to and from the Principal Ports of the World.
