Retirements

Bonnie MacEwan, dean of libraries at Auburn University Libraries (AUL), has retired after 13 years at AUL and 36 years in the library profession. MacEwan was instrumental in the development and transformation of the Auburn libraries into a one-stop destination for users to research, study, and get academic assistance across a wide variety of departments. She guided AUL through renovations of the Library of Architecture Design and Construction and the expansion of the university's main library. Prior to her arrival at Auburn, MacEwan was assistant dean for collections at Penn State University for a decade before being promoted to the scholarly communication position designed to explore new technology-driven publishing ventures in collaboration with the Penn State University Press; art, archaeology, and music librarian at the University of Missouri, Columbia; and Humanities librarian at Central Missouri State University. MacEwan has served as a member of the Association of Research Libraries Board; elected to the Association of Southeast Research Libraries Board three times as president, member-at-large, and secretary/treasurer; member of the Network of Alabama Academics Libraries Board and serving a term as president; and chair of the Collection Management and Development Section of the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services Division of ALA.
