ACQUISITIONS

• The LIBRARY OF CONGRESS has acquired an autograph letter of Benjamin Franklin, written August 15, 1765 in London to Francis Hopkinson in Philadelphia. Apparently unpublished and unknown, the letter was obtained through the Heineman Foundation for Research, Educational, Charitable and Scientific Purposes, Inc. All of the letter is of major significance, but the reference to the armonica, an invention of Franklin, is doubly so.

• Dr. Lawrence W. Towner, director and librarian of the NEWBERRY LIBRARY, has announced the acquisition by the library of a long-missing manuscript of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. The work is a soprano concert aria, Conservati fedele, Köchel listing no. 23. The manuscript comes to the Newberry through the bequest of Mrs. Claire von der Marwitz, who died in 1967. She will be remembered by opera specialists as Claire Dux, a leading Mozart performer of the early years of the century. Her bequest to the Newberry specifically comprises her music, and also includes such items as a first edition of Schubert's Winterreise along with the scores which she used in her musical career. The manuscript now joins other Mozart autographs which she presented to the Newberry, including the Kontretänze, K. 610.

• Mrs. James H. Townsend and Mrs. John Gallishaw have given a substantial collection of Robert Frost material to Lamson library, PLYMOUTH STATE COLLEGE. Included are letters from Robert Frost to Mrs. George Browne, friend and confidante of Frost and father of the donors, prepublication typescripts of various poems by Frost, autographed first editions of several of his books, unpublished photographs taken at Franconia, New Hampshire, and miscellaneous other material by or about Frost.

• On Saturday, October 19, the unveiling of the inscription—"In Memory of John Quinn"—on the benefactors' pylons in the main lobby of the Fifth Avenue library opened the ceremony which marked the official announcement of the gift to the NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY'S manuscript division of the John Quinn Memorial Collection. The collection holds the personal correspondence which Quinn wrote and received from about 1900 until his death in New York City at the age of 55 in 1924. The donor, Mary Anderson Conroy, Quinn's niece and god-daughter, was the principal participant at the ceremony together with her husband, Dr. Thomas F. Conroy.

The Library first received Quinn materials in 1936. Under Quinn's will, Mrs. Jeanne Robert Foster edited a transcribed selection from his personal correspondence for deposit in the Library. In 1962, Mrs. Conroy began systematically to give to the Library sections of her uncle's correspondence including the originals of the transcriptions. The John Quinn Memorial Collection consists of 72 letterfile boxes, 16 folders, and some 30 letterpress copy books representing thousands of letters, notes, telegrams, and cables reflecting Quinn's years of friendship with members of the Irish Literary Revival, the artists of The Paris School, and English and American writers whose work he advanced through his financial patronage.

• The director of libraries of KENT STATE UNIVERSITY, Hyman W. Kritzer, has announced the acquisition through purchase and gift of the definitive collection of Raymond Chandler formed by Professor Matthew J. Bruccoli. Raymond Chandler, best known as the author of The Big Sleep, has been called the Shakespeare of detective writers; and his work has been highly esteemed in Europe, where he is regarded as a major author.

The 250 volume collection of Chandler's works is supplemented by Professor Bruccoli's collections of American hard-boiled writers. Professor Bruccoli, a leading bibliographer and authority in American literature, compiled Raymond Chandler: a Check List published by the Kent State University Press in 1968. Half of the collection acquired was donated by Professor Bruccoli in honor of the Kent State University libraries forthcoming celebration to mark the acquisition of its 500,000th volume.

• The UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH has recently purchased a collection of books and papers of the late Ramon Gomez de la Serna, a contemporary Spanish writer. The collection includes the only existing copies of several works, first editions of all but two of the novelist-essayist's works, original manuscripts for seven unpublished works, notes for revising eight published works, manuscripts of eight projected or incomplete works, correspondence, offprints of newspaper articles and reviews, and a collection of 500 articles.

• Lab Band director Leon Breeden and music librarian Vernon Martin of the NORTH TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY announced the purchase of a collection of books, recordings, tapes and discographies of the work of jazz musician Duke Ellington. The collection was acquired from the widow of Houston attorney Rhodes Baker, an ardent jazz buff and collector of Ellington's works. The collection, amounting to approximately 600 78 rpm records and 400 LP, 45 rpm records, transcriptions and tapes of rehearsals, broadcasts and interviews, will be stored in the music library at NTSU. Additional material, such as the biographies and discographies, will be added to the music research library.

AWARDS, GIFTS, GRANTS

• The British Office for Scientific and Technical Information has awarded a grant to the COLLEGE OF LIBRARIANSHIP, WALES, to investigate the relative performance of four indexing systems in the field of library science and documentation. The project is being directed by A. C. Foskett of the Department of Information Retrieval Studies. The indexing systems being compared are:

1. the SMART computer system. This uses the natural language of documents abstracts and requires no intellectual effort on the part of the indexer. Professor G. Salton of Cornell University, has agreed to cooperate by running searches on SMART.
2. a post-coordinate keyword system. This will involve the use of optical-coincidence cards. A thesaurus for the system will be constructed in collaboration with Aslib.
3. a faceted classification. The classification to be used is one developed by the Classification Research Group.
4. relational indexing. This will involve the use of the same terms as the faceted classification, but they will be linked by the nine relations between terms developed by J. E. L. Farradane at City University, London.

• INFORMATION DYNAMICS CORPORATION (IDC) of Reading, Massachusetts, has been awarded a $75,000 contract by the U.S. Office of Education, to conduct a study which will provide the library and information services community with an in-depth analysis and history of the experience the Federal Government has had in automating library and information services. The work on the contract will be performed by IDC's Washington Division located in Bethesda, Maryland. The Federal Library Committee, through its task force on automation, is serving as an advisory committee for the project.

• The NATIONAL BOOK COMMITTEE, INC., has received a grant of nearly $250,000 from the Bureau of Research of the U.S. Office of Education for the first phase of a four-stage, nationwide project designed to help develop the facilities, procedures, and programs of educational media selection centers. Ultimately the project is intended to reinforce educational excellence in the Nation's elementary and secondary schools by demonstrating a variety of ways "to put the best educational resources, ideas and innovations within the reach of students, their teachers and librarians," according to Mason Gross, President of Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, and a vice chairman of the National Book Committee.

As proposed, the Educational Media Selection Centers Project will be carried out in four related, successive stages over a 7½-year period. Phase I, now funded and underway, is an 18-month survey and study of centers already being operated at national, regional, state and local levels. The report will provide the basis for Phase II—the creation of guidelines suggesting standards for comprehensive educational media selection centers. Phase III calls for encouraging implementation of the guidelines by establishing model or "demonstration" facilities in a variety of locations and administrative situations, and Phase IV will be devoted to evaluating demonstration centers and disseminating results to librarians, educators, and related organizations through a coordinated communications network of publications and films.

• Professor Matthew J. Bruccoli has assigned the royalties from a recent work, The Profession of Authorship in America, 1800-1870, by William Charvat, to the OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY libraries to expand the William Charvat Collection of American Fiction, one of the largest of early American fiction. In this book, published by the Ohio State University Press, Professor Bruccoli has collected and edited the unpublished writings of the late Professor Charvat, a member of the English department of the Ohio State University from 1944 to 1966.

BUILDINGS

• Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes and Senator Mark Hatfield of Oregon were the chief speakers at a ceremony October 4 in Fremont, Ohio, dedicating two new wings of the RUTHERFORD B. HAYES STATE MEMORIAL LIBRARY AND MUSEUM. Of the two new extensions of this Presidential library, directed by Watt P. Marchman, one is a library wing encompassing three stack floors to house books on Hayes and Ohio history and the Hayes Papers, and the other is a museum wing enhancing the memorial's facilities for exhibits on the life of Hayes, the Hayes family, and on the background and times of Ohio's second President.

• The library facilities of UNION COLLEGE, Lincoln, Nebraska, have been increased by a new addition joining the former library building and the music hall. New quarters include library entrance and circulation desk, reference area, card catalog and lounge area, and additional offices, workrooms, reader space, stacks and study carrels. The second floor includes a choral room, classroom, and faculty offices for the music department. The addition increased the library's total floor space by 8,622 square feet, bringing the total floor space to 28,414 square feet.

From MERCURIUS MUSICUS, 1669, to ESQUIRE, 1967.

Periodicals, periodicals, and more periodicals. Professional, scientific, trade, Early English, American, Chinese, Russian, government, newspapers. Over 5,000 titles. All on 35mm positive microfilm.

With so many periodicals to choose from, it's understandable if you find it difficult to decide what you need. We can help. We're specialists in providing source material. And we understand things like budgets, space and curriculum.

For a beginning library, we might recommend our Basic Collection; SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, ATLANTIC, TIME, READER'S DIGEST, NEWSWEEK and 30 other periodicals.

For a large library, we might recommend the Comprehensive Collection; all the titles in the Basic Collection plus 64 others.

Every periodical is indexed in READERS' GUIDE. And when you order either collection, we include our microfilm reader.

Write for University Microfilms' free 170-page catalog of periodicals. Or talk with one of our specialists in your area.

Why should you look for things when we've already found them.

MAY 5-9: A general call has been issued for "free communications," or unsolicited papers, for the Third International Congress of Medical Librarianship 1969, in Amsterdam. Papers should be 2,000 to 2,500 words long and may be submitted in one of the five Congress languages—English, French, German, Russian, and Spanish. Each paper should be accompanied by an abstract of not more than fifty words in English. October 15, 1968 is the final date for submission of papers. They should be addressed to the Office of the Secretary-General, Third International Congress of Medical Librarianship, c/o Excerpta Medica Foundation, 119 Herengracht, Amsterdam, The Netherlands. The theme of the Congress is "World Progress in Medical Librarianship." The subject areas include the contribution of medical libraries toward an increase of biomedical knowledge; the functions of medical libraries in the transmission of biomedical knowledge; the functions of the organization of medical knowledge: indexing and classification; modern information systems in medicine; technical developments in the medical library field; and problems of medical information systems and centers in developing countries. There will be invited lecturer's, as well as contributed, papers. Registration fee is $50 if paid before January 1; $60 thereafter. Registration forms are available from the office of the Secretary-General. Information about special transportation to Amsterdam from the United States will be available from Mrs. Jacqueline W. Felter, The Medical Library Center of New York, 17 East 102 Street, New York 10029, and for Canada from Miss Doreen Fraser, Dalhousie University Medical Dental Library, Carleton and College Streets, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Books-Coming-into-Print

A computer-operated advance notification and acquisition program from Bro-Dart's Stacey's division. Allows your library to profile its needs in specific disciplines. Gives you notification, approval or automatic shipment of books and continuations.

New and Current Books:

An Expansion of the Books-for-Publication-Date Shelving Program. Provides new popular fiction and non-fiction by publication date. Also makes available a continually updated index of books featured during the five previous months for libraries wishing to wait for revisions or to promptly acquire new books they may have missed.

Selection Tools

Complete computerized lists of books featured in most authoritative major collections.

Cataloging and Processing

Bro-Dart's Alanar Book Processing Center has cataloged and processed more than 12 million books for over 10 thousand libraries. The service is available on either a temporary or long term basis.

Cards with Books

Eliminates delay in securing Library of Congress catalog cards and the high cost of subsequent matching with books.

Book Catalog

Bro-Dart's extensive, existing computer programming saves libraries the heavy investment of preparing their own individual programs. Unique, practical updating system.

Circulation Control Systems

Economical solutions for all circulation control problems from simple hand-charging to systems requiring computer input.

Reclassification

Bro-Dart will propose methods, supervise, and even provide the necessary manpower to accomplish reclassification with minimum disruption of services.

Library Furniture

Bro-Dart manufactures and supplies complete ranges of library furniture in styles to complement any budget and decor.

Library Supplies

Every kind of supply imaginable for efficient library management to help a librarian acquire, catalog, process, shelve, circulate, and repair books and periodicals.

JUNE 17-20, 1969: Puerto Rico will be the site of the Fourteenth Seminar on the Acquisition of Latin American Library Materials, June 17-20, 1969. The acquisition of Latin American scientific and technological materials will be the special topic for discussion. Other sessions will deal with progress made in the past year on matters concerning the booktrade and acquisitions, bibliography, exchange of publications, official publications, photoduplication of Latin American materials, and archives. Meetings of the Seminar Committees will take place on Wednesday morning, June 18. The first general session will be held Wednesday afternoon to initiate committee and progress reports, and the last one on Friday morning, June 20. Meetings of the Executive Board of the newly incorporated SALALM will be held on the evening of Tuesday, June 17, and at luncheon on Wednesday, June 18. Institutional registration in the Fourteenth Seminar is $15.00, which includes preprint working papers only available through payment of the institutional registration. These papers, including the Progress Report on books in the Americas, will be distributed at the time of the meeting to participants and to those registered but not attending. The registration fee for additional participants from the institution registering is $7.50, and includes preprint working papers. Additional sets of working papers can be subscribed to in advance for $5.00 each. The Final Report and Working Papers will be subsequently published by the Pan American Union. Information on the content of the program and working papers can be procured from Mr. James Andrews, Argonne National Laboratory, 9700 South Cass Avenue, Argonne, Illinois 60439. For other information, refer to the Executive Secretary, Mrs. Marietta Daniels Shepard, Pan American Union, Washington, D.C. 20006.

OCT. 26-30: 68th annual meeting of the Medical Library Association will be held at the Brown Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky. Miss Joan Titley, director of the Kornhauser Memorial Medical library, University of Louisville, is convention chairman. The advance program and registration forms will be a part of the May, 1969 issue of MLA News.

MISCELLANY

• A recent law enacted in Brazil and published in the Diário Oficial of July 10, 1968, will be of interest to libraries purchasing Brazilian works for their collections. This brief Law 5,471 prohibits the exportation of libraries or collections of early imprints and documents published from the 16th to the 19th centuries ("editadas nos séculos XVI a XIX"). The prohibition extends to individual publications which might have been sold from any library or collection which had been broken up or otherwise distributed and to any isolated items of this nature. Exportation is also prohibited for newspaper runs over 10 years old and of musical scores, both original and early copies. Violation of the prohibition to export is punishable, and the materials are subject to confiscation enuring to the benefit of the public or national patrimony.

• The 500,000th volume in the book collection of the library, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA BARBARA, was presented by the Friends of the UCSB library in a special ceremony on October 5 following an open house of the library's new eight story addition to the building. The book selected by the Friends as the 500,000th was the six folio volumes bound in three, Foulis Press, Virgil and Homer, in red morocco, extra-illustrated, by Walther, Glasgow, 1756-1758.

• The UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA BARBARA, has assembled a definitive James Branch Cabell collection for inclusion in its Modern Authors Collection. The collection includes all but three of the titles listed in the 1957 bibliography of Cabell which was compiled by Francis Joan Brewer.

• The AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR INFORMATION SCIENCE (ASIS) has presented its 1968 Award of Merit to Dr. Carlos A. Cuadra, manager of the library and documentation systems department of System Development Corporation, Santa Monica, California. The citation to Dr. Cuadra states that the Award of Merit is given him "In recognition and appreciation of his initiative, development, editorship, and continued improvement of the Annual Review of Information Science and Technology, and his contribution to improving the quality and usefulness of the annual meetings of the Society."

• RICHARD A. DEGENNARO, associate librarian at Harvard University, is teaching courses in library automation at the University of Southern California while on a one-year leave of absence from Harvard. In the spring semester he will serve as co-director of an Institute in Information Science for the library school.

• The Alumni Association of WESTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY presented the University Libraries with the facsimile edition of the Gutenberg Bible for the 500,000th volume added to the collections.

WORLD MEETINGS must form a part of the ready reference collection of every good scientific and technical library

The World Meetings publications—World Meetings . . . United States and Canada and World Meetings . . . Outside U.S.A. and Canada—are the definitive references to meetings and their literature. They supply information in depth on future meetings of interest to the scientific, medical, and engineering communities throughout the world. These journals are completely revised and cumulated each quarter and represent the most complete and accurate archive of information on meetings available.

Detailed listings give information on the technical content, publications, exhibits, deadlines for papers, name, date, and location of each meeting in addition to the names and addresses of the persons to contact for further information in these areas.

Five pre-coordinated, computer-produced indexes give quick access to the data in the listings. A system of invariant registry numbers greatly simplifies the problem of following any meeting from issue to issue and provides the librarian with a method of using World Meetings as an aid to the cataloging and retrieval of meetings literature.

Information included in the World Meetings publications is obtained entirely by direct inquiry to the organizers of the meetings rather than from secondary sources. All listings are verified and updated at three-month intervals.

The World Meetings publications are compiled, edited, and indexed by a full-time professional staff and are reviewed regularly by our editorial advisory boards of distinguished engineers, scientists, physicians, and information experts. These reviews ensure the user that the publications keep abreast of the rapidly changing worlds of science, engineering, and medicine.

With the scientific and technical community spending more than $1 billion each year on meetings, can you afford to have this reference more than an arm's length away?

HIGHER EDUCATION ACT

On October 1, the President signed H.R. 18037 (Public Law 90-557), the act making appropriations for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare. Included in the act is an appropriation of $5.5 million for Title II-C of the Higher Education Act.

On October 16, the President signed S. 3769 (Public Law 90-575), the Higher Education Amendments of 1968. The law extends Title II, Part C (National Program for Acquisitions and Cataloging) of the Higher Education Act for fiscal year 1969 and the next two succeeding fiscal years. It authorizes an appropriation of $6 million for fiscal year 1969 and $11 million for the next two years. In addition, this section of the Act was amended so as to give the Librarian of Congress authority to:

1. purchase additional copies of a single title of a book acquired through the Title II-C program.
2. provide not only cataloging information about currently acquired materials but also other aids to higher education, such as bibliographies, indexes, guides and union lists, describing not only current books but other important materials essential to research.
3. pay administrative costs of cooperative arrangements for acquiring for institutions of higher education or combinations thereof, library materials not readily obtainable outside the country of origin. ■■
