LIBRARY BINDING INSTITUTE

160 State Street

Boston, Mass. 02109

Here is a statement by Dr. William H. Goetzmann, Professor of History, University of Texas—1967 winner of both the Pulitzer and Parkman Prizes in History.

"The Annual Reports of the Smithsonian Institution represent a matchless panorama of the nation's scientific past and an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the history of science and culture in the United States. In making these volumes once again available to scholars and students all over the country in a handsome and authentic facsimile reprint edition, the Carrollton Press has performed a great service.

"Every library seriously interested in the subject of American culture should have a complete set."

To Dr. Goetzmann's kind words we can only add the suggestion that those college and junior college libraries which are fortunate enough to have complete or nearly complete sets of these Reports, but whose collections include brittle or deteriorating volumes, should now acquire these fresh facsimile copies and make them available to their students for active research use.

Now that the deadline for spending 1967 HEA Title II-A funds has been extended from June 30, 1967 to June 30, 1968, you can order the Smithsonian Annual Reports and Appendices using funds for either Fiscal Year 1967 or 1968. For our part, we'll arrange the billing to meet your funding schedules.

If you have not yet received a copy of our detailed brochure, please write and we'll send one by return mail.

PRINTING . . . BIBLIOGRAPHY . . . BOOKSELLING BOOK AUCTIONS . . . BIBLES . . . AMERICAN LITERATURE

ARE SUBJECTS COVERED IN SEVEN HISTORICALLY IMPORTANT REPRINTS

TRÜBNER'S BIBLIOGRAPHICAL GUIDE TO AMERICAN LITERATURE: A Classed List of Books Published in the United States of America During the Last Forty Years, with Bibliographical Introduction, Notes, and Alphabetical Index.

Compiled and edited by Nicholas Trübner.
London, 1859

This bibliography began the authentic record of literary progress in America. It was the first full and impartial survey of the nation's literary enterprise during the first half of the nineteenth century and remains the only classed bibliography of the time.

The introduction, "Bibliographical Prolegomena," is an annotated bibliography of major bibliographies and catalogs of books relating to North and South America and of selected general and specialized bibliographies and periodicals published in America.

The main part of the work, "Classed List of Books," is Trübner's classified guide to the literature of thirty-one subject areas ranging from bibliography, theology, natural history, mathematics, and astronomy to politics, belles lettres, freemasonry, spiritualism, and periodicals.

720 Pages 10,000 Entries Author Index $27.50

AMERICAN BOOK AUCTION CATALOGUES, 1713-1934
(With Supplements of 1946 and 1948).

Compiled by George L. McKay.
New York Public Library, 1937.

A union list of some 10,000 American auction catalogs that include printed materials. Entries are arranged in the order of opening date of sales, and include the name of the owner or owners of property auctioned; title of each catalog; auction firm; collation; and location of copies, noting priced and named copies. Also included is a list of principal works consulted, an index to owners, and other appendixes.

540 Pages $13.75

EARLIER HISTORY OF ENGLISH BOOKSELLING

By William Roberts. London, 1889.

This was the pioneer work in the history of English book-selling, tracing this segment of literary history through material derived from early seventeenth-century newspapers, together with information compiled from booksellers, catalogs, biographies, autobiographies, journals, library catalogs, and many other sources.

Among the topics covered are: bookselling before the spread of printing; terms used in or related to early bookselling; prices of books; first licensing of booksellers; the beginning of book loans to indigent students; and bookselling localities in England. There are chapters on five important booksellers and their times.

341 Pages Exhaustive Index $11.00

A LIST OF EDITIONS OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES and Parts Thereof Printed in America Previous to 1860.

Introduction and bibliographical notes by Edmund Bailey O'Callaghan. New York, 1861.

Beginning with the first Bible to bear an American imprint, a 1661 translation of the New Testament into the Indian language "For the propagation of the Gospels among the Indians in New England," O'Callaghan goes on to list over 1,500 editions issued in the Americas, adding valuable bibliographical notes and annotations for all important items. For easy reference, there is a comprehensive index of authors, titles, publishers, and places of publication.

415 Pages Illustrated $22.50

CATALOGUE OF BOOKS PRINTED FOR PRIVATE CIRCULATION

Compiled, annotated, and published by Bertram Dobell.
London, 1906.

The 1,000 books cataloged in this index were owned by Dobell, most of which are scarce or rare and some of which are valuable. This bibliography is quite useful for the little-known or unknown works by both major and minor figures to which generally unknown contributions were made by Walter Savage Landon, Augustus Hare, Leigh Hunt, and others. It also makes a departure from the bare lists of names and titles comprising many bibliographies by adding a summary of the content and character of the books listed, with occasional passages quoted from the work and, often, Dobell's personal evaluation.

240 Pages $16.00

AMERICAN DICTIONARY OF PRINTING AND BOOK-MAKING, Containing a History of these Arts in Europe and America, with Definitions and Technical and Biographical Sketches.

Compiled and annotated by W. W. Pasko.
New York, 1894.

The thousands of entries and hundreds of illustrations in this historical and technical dictionary bring together a wide range of material, from the numerous significations of the letter A and accents in foreign languages to articles on Joseph Jaehnsdorf and zincography.

It includes biographic sketches; descriptions of equipment and operations; discussions of principles of pricing and costing; the methods of economy; the finances of printing and publishing; and French, German, Italian, and Spanish technical terms, with the equivalent terms and sometimes further definitions in English.

592 Pages Illustrated $19.00

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF BIBLIOGRAPHY, To Which is Prefixed a Memoir on the Public Libraries of the Antients.

By Thomas Hartwell Horne. London, 1814.

For years this was the standard work in bibliography and now is a recognized classic. The introduction discusses the origins and history of the public library in terms of twenty-two of the earliest-known libraries, such as the libraries of the Jews and the public libraries in the cities of the Roman Empire.

Part II is "On Books"—their denominations, forms, and sizes; styles of bookbinding; preservation; difference between ancient and modern editions; rarity; prices; choice of books for a library; and their classification therein.

Part III deals with literary history, writing, works on printing, books, bibliographical systems, catalogs, etc. A 138-page appendix discusses and illustrates monographs and devices of ancient printers; lists works printed on paper of different colors; and some of the most eminent of the early printers, along with their principal editions.
