Library For Sale

The library of the late Dr. Ernest Harms, which consists of thousands of books dealing with clinical psychology, is available for sale to a suitable institution, such as an academic library. Although the collection is for sale rather than gift, the suitability of the institution will be considered in accepting an offer; it is not for sale to dealers or agents. The collection is particularly strong in the areas of child psychology, child psychiatry, drug abuse, and art therapy. Inquiries may be addressed to Elizabeth McK. Scott, 158 E. 95th St., New York, NY 10029; (212) 962-2826 or (212) 369-1236.

Dr. White was very active in professional and related activities. He served on the Champaign Public Library Board, as president of the Illinois Library Association, as a member of the Illinois State Library Advisory Council, and frequently was called upon to serve as a library consultant for colleges and universities in the U.S.

Chancellor J. W. Peltason issued the following statement at the time of his death:

The University community suffered a major loss this morning with the death of Prof. Lucien White, University Librarian. The loss is both professional and personal. We have lost an outstanding academic leader. We have lost a good friend. Our hearts and thoughts are with his family in this time of grief.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, the University of Illinois Library Friends (in care of the University of Illinois Foundation), or the First Baptist Church Memorial Fund (Champaign, Illinois). ■ ■

every "Gimmick" should do as much as the SCI[®]
does

Over the years librarians have handed our Science Citation Index[®] its share of knocks. Some in earnest, others in fun. One put-down we still hear now and then calls the SCI "an ego gimmick researchers use for counting the citations to their published papers." Only nowadays most librarians smile when they say that. Because they know what the SCI really is: a comprehensive and remarkably current index to the editorial output of more than 2,700 science journals. A flexible, easy-to-use system in which scientists and librarians alike readily locate relevant information through citation, title-word, author or organization searches. In other words, quite some "gimmick". So if you have any serious doubts about the Science Citation Index, maybe it's time to write us for more information. Or better yet, arrange to let some of your staff and clients discover for themselves what the SCI is good for besides citation counting. You can do that through a workshop conducted right on your premises by one of our information specialists. Without cost or obligation, of course. Just use the coupon to let us know you like the idea. We'll be in touch.

Please have an ISI information specialist contact me to arrange a Science Citation Index Workshop here.

Edited by Paul Wasserman, with Janice McLean and Krystyna Wasserman.

Volume 1, UNITED STATES AND CANADA. Introduction. Index of Awards. Subject Index of Awards. ISBN 0-8103-0376-0. $38.00.

Volume 2, INTERNATIONAL AND FOREIGN. Introduction. Index of Awards. Subject Index of Awards. ISBN 0-8103-0377-9. $48.00.

Already established as "the most comprehensive guide in print" (RQ), Awards, Honors, and Prizes now provides even greater coverage. The newly published Third Edition appears in two volumes: Volume 1, covering U.S. and Canadian awards, has been completely revised and updated, and contains hundreds of new entries. The new Volume 2 covers international and foreign awards with the same thoroughness that has distinguished previous editions which focused on U.S. and Canadian awards.

Entries in both volumes are grouped by names of sponsoring agencies, organizations, or individuals. Within each "sponsor" entry the individual awards are described, also in alphabetical order. For example, the entry for the American Library Association gives the address of the organization, then continues with detailed coverage of about two dozen awards given by or in cooperation with ALA.

Each listing provides full information: exact title of the award, purpose and terms of eligibility, the form of the award, frequency of presentation, and when and by whom the award was established. Each volume contains a Subject Index of Awards and an alphabetical Index of Awards that
