ACRL Seeks Volunteers for Offices 32 and Committees

Would you like to run for an ACRL office or volunteer for appointment to an ACRL standing committee? Are you interested in seeking office in an ACRL section or being considered for appointment to a section committee? If the answer is yes to any of these questions, here is how you proceed.

ACRL PRESIDENT

The ACRL Appointments and Nominations Committee will nominate candidates for the office of ACRL vice-president/president-elect at the January 1982 Midwinter meeting of ALA. The election for this office will be held in the spring of 1983. The winner of the election will serve as vice-president/president-elect during 1983-84 and as president of ACRL during 1984-85. If you wish to be considered for nomination to this office or if you would like to submit names for consideration, contact the Chair of the Appointments and Nominations Committee, P. Grady Morein, University Librarian, University of Evansville Clifford Library, P.O. Box 329, Evansville, IN 47702.

When scheduled vacancies occur on ACRL standing committees, the Appointments and Nominations Committee recommends to the president-elect of ACRL the names of members who might fill the vacancies. The president-elect makes the final appointments. If you are interested in being considered for appointment to an ACRL committee, you should complete the ACRL Committee Volunteer Form that is included in this issue of C&RL News and mail it to P. Grady Morein, chair of the Appointments and Nominations Committee, before January 1, 1982.

ACRL SECTION OFFICES

ACRL has thirteen sections (their names are listed later in this article). You will find a description of their areas of responsibility in the ALA Handbook of Organization. Each section has an executive committee and a nominating committee. The nominating committee nominates persons to run for the elective offices of the section. The major offices of a section are the chair and vice-chair/chair-elect. Some sections also elect secretaries and members-at-large to the section executive committee. If you would like to run for the office of vice-chair/chair-elect of a section or for secretary or member-at-large, contact the chair or a member of the appropriate section nominating committee (see "People to Contact," below), before January 1, 1982.

ACRL SECTION COMMITTEES

The committees of ACRL sections offer a variety of opportunities for service to the division. The Community and Junior College Libraries Section alone has ten committees. For a complete listing of ACRL section committees, see the ALA Handbook of Organization.

The chair-elect of a section appoints the chair and members of all section committees when scheduled vacancies on these committees occur. If you would like to be considered for appointment as chair or member of a section committee, fill out the ACRL Committee Volunteer Form and mail it to the chair-elect of the appropriate section (see "People to Contact," below), before January 1, 1982.

EDITORIAL BOARDS

ACRL has five editorial boards: the Choice Editorial Board, the College & Research Libraries Editorial Board, the College & Research Libraries News Editorial Board, the Nonprint Media Publications Editorial Board, and the Publications in Librarianship Editorial Board. When a vacancy occurs on an editorial board, the editor recommends the name of a person to fill the vacancy. The Publications Committee must approve the recommendation. The ACRL Board must give its approval, and finally the president of ACRL makes the appointment.

If you would like to be considered for appointment to an editorial board, contact the editor of the publication (see "People to Contact," below).

Remember that at any given time there are only a limited number of vacancies on ACRL's committees, sections, and boards. If at once you don't succeed in obtaining an appointment, try again. Make yourself known to committee chairs by sitting in on meetings, volunteering to help with committee projects, etc. If committee chairs see that you are interested in the work of their committees, they may recommend your name to the appropriate appointing body when a vacancy occurs.

NEW PUBLICATIONS FROM ACRL

Any library whose institution is going or will be going through the accreditation process will want to have Libraries and Accreditation in Institutions of Higher Education. This publication represents the proceedings of an invitational conference co-sponsored by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation and ACRL. Representatives from the six regional accrediting associations and participants on accreditation teams presented papers and discussed existing standards.

The contents include: an overview of the accrediting process; the reasons for the development of standards to supplement the accrediting associations' guidelines; a discussion of different types of standards (qualitative, quantitative, and checklists); the rationale underlying the three different sets of ACRL standards; the processes by which they were developed; how they are currently used; how they relate to the self-study process; their relationship to other library standards; how an accreditation team evaluates a library when there is not a librarian on the team; and how the accreditation process can be improved from the viewpoints of a team member, the accreditation agency, and a librarian who has successfully completed the accreditation process.

For all of you who have ever wanted to know about this subject, Libraries and Accreditation in Institutions of Higher Education is available from the ACRL office for $14.95 to ACRL members and $18.95 for non-members. Orders must be prepaid or a $5 invoice charge will be levied.

The Cumulative Index to College and Research Libraries, Volumes 26 to 40 (1965-1979) is now available for $10 to ACRL members and $12 to non-members (orders must be prepaid). This index includes the contents of College and Research Libraries and College and Research Libraries News.

Eldon Tamblin, the compiler of this index, is the chief cataloger at Portland State University, Oregon. ■■
