Death

FRED CARRINGTON COLE, president of the Council on Library Resources from 1967 to 1977 and a member of its board of directors since 1962, died on May 6 at his home in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. While serving as a special consultant for the Ford Foundation's education program in 1954-1955, Cole began inquiring into the problems facing the nation's libraries. It was in part his awareness of these problems that contributed to the establishment of the Council on Library Resources by the Foundation in 1956. ■■
