

and/or special library setting."

• Events in the revolutionary world of videotext/viewdata/teletext are covered in Viewdata and Videotext, 1980-81: A Worldwide Report available from Knowledge Industry Pubs. for $75. The nearly 50 authoritative papers were presented at "Viewdata '80, First World Conference on Viewdata, Videotext and Teletext" held in London, March 26-28, 1980.

• The problem of effective decision-making in the management of academic libraries is the topic of Information for Academic Library Decision Making: The Case for Organizational Information Management by Charles McClure (Greenwood, 1980, $23.95).

• Developing Career Information Centers: A Guide to Collection Building and Counseling, edited by Dr. Sara Fine (Neal-Schuman, 1980, $17.95), is an outgrowth of the 1978 USOE institute held at the University of Pittsburgh on this topic. The eleven chapters cover career-development theories, counseling techniques, materials selection and program evaluation.

• The Modern Library Practice Series, 3d ed., by J. McRee Elrod (Scarecrow, 1980, $29.50) is comprised of five programmed instruction units "designed to present the basic operations of descriptive cataloging, choice and assignment of main entry, added entry, subject headings, classification and filing both in alphabetical catalogs and shelf-lists. The new edition is current as of 1980."

• Help for the librarian who must be ready to apply AACR2 is offered by Christa F.B. Hoffmann in Getting Ready for AACR2: The Cataloguer's Guide (Knowledge Industry, 1980, $24.50). Getting Ready is not a critique, but a practical guide containing more than 100 pages of cataloging examples.

• The evolution of American academic librarianship over a period of 45 years is recalled in Ellsworth on Ellsworth: An Unchronological, Mostly True Account of Some Moments of Contact Between "Library Science" and Me, Since Our Confluence in 1931, With Appropriate Side-lights by Ralph E. Ellsworth (Scarecrow, 1980, $9.50).

• John R. Rizzo, professor of management at Western Michigan University and editor of the Journal of Library Administration, has written a guide, Management for Librarians (Greenwood, 1980, $35), which covers such topics as organizational effectiveness and efficiency, accountability, planning and control, motivation, group behavior, decision-making, and performance appraisal.

• A "study of the strategic decisions that shape the provision of public library services in the United States" has been conducted by Malcolm Getz, associate professor of economics at Vanderbilt University. Public Libraries: An Economic View is available from The John Hopkins University Press (1980, $12.50). ■■

Calendar

December

27-30—Modern Language Association: The 1980 convention of the Modern Language Association, Hyatt Hotel, Houston, Texas, will have many programs of interest to academic librarians. Among them are: "The Hemingway Collection of the John F. Kennedy Library, an Illustrated Lecture," "The Future of the Scholarly Journal," "Recent Developments in Teaching Research Methods and Research Papers from Theory to Practice," "Current Research in Technical Writing," "The Significance of Information Retrieval to the Humanist," and "Library Collections Important for the Study of Science Fiction." Pre-registration fee for the entire convention: members $40, non-members $50. Contact: MLA Convention Office, 62 Fifth Ave., New York, NY 10011; (212) 741-5588.

January

8—Medical Reference: "Medical Reference Questions in Libraries: Ethics, Bibliography, Sources," Rutgers Graduate School of Library and Information Science. Contact: Jana Varlejs, Rutgers GSLIS, 4 Huntington St., New Brunswick, NJ 08903; (201) 932-7169.

27—Special Libraries: "Consulting Roles and Processes for the Special Librarian and Information Specialist," Benson Hotel, Portland, Oregon, to be held prior to the winter business meeting of the Special Libraries Association. Fee: SLA members $75, non-members $100. Contact: Mary Frances Hoban, Special Libraries Association, 235 Park Ave. South, New York, NY 10003; (212) 477-9250.

February

10-14—Music Libraries: The Music Library Association celebrates its 50th anniversary at its annual conference, Sheraton Park Plaza, New Haven, Connecticut. The theme will be the history of MLA. Fee: $20. Contact: Sarah Shifert, Music Library Association, 2017 Walnut St., Philadelphia, PA 19103; (215) 569-3948.

12-13—Automation: "Library Automation and Facility Planning," a workshop to be held in Miami. Fee: $225. Contact: Aaron Cohen & Associates, Teatown Rd., Croton-on-Hudson, NY 10520; (914) 271-8170.

13—Art and Antiques: "Library Services to Art and Antique Collectors," Toronto. Fee: $75. Instructor: Mary Williamson, fine arts bibliographer, York University. Contact: School of Continuing Studies, University of Toronto, 158 St. George St., Toronto, Ontario, M5S 2V8; (416) 978-2400. ■■