Abstract: The fourth volume of Xi Jinping on The Governance of China once again expounds the great founding spirit of the Party from different angles, and takes the solid promotion of common prosperity as the goal of chapter 6, reflecting the unity of ideological guidance and practical requirements, theoretical adherence and the purpose of values. Therefore, to thoroughly study the fourth volume of Xi Jinping on The Governance of China, we should correctly understand the internal coupling of the great founding spirit of the Party and common prosperity.

Keywords: The fourth volume of Xi Jinping on The Governance of China, Great founding spirit of the Party, Common prosperity.

1. Introduction

The Communist Party of China is a leading force for the happiness of the people, and the great founding spirit of the Party is the spiritual guide for the Party to unite and lead the Chinese people in their brave struggle. It has told the world of the purpose of serving the people wholeheartedly. Common prosperity is a path of development for the Party to lead the people in seeking happiness. It has drawn a blueprint for a better life to all the people. The great founding spirit of the Party and common prosperity are coupled in the same theory, history, will sympathy and goal.

2. "Adhere to Truth and Adhering to Ideal" Is Identical to The Theory of Common Prosperity

The great founding spirit of the Party and common prosperity have the same theoretical source, which is both out of Marxist scientific theory. "Adhering to the truth" means firmly establishing the Marxist belief, and "adhering to the ideal" means adhering to the communist ideal under the guidance of Marxism. Common prosperity comes from the Marxist thought of common prosperity. Marx and Engels once said: "The free development of everyone is the condition for the free development of all people." [1] The proposal would be the "union of free men", which is the highest stage of common prosperity, namely the communist society. On the one hand, Marxism provides theoretical guidance and ideal pursuit for the Communist Party of China, shaping the scientific soul of the great founding spirit of the Party. As Xi Jinping said, "Why the Communist Party of China can and socialism with Chinese characteristics is good, in the final analysis, because of Marxism!" [2] On the other hand, it has contributed truth and wisdom to the national rejuvenation and the happiness of the people, and provided scientific guidance on China's path to prosperity. The truth of the great founding spirit of the Party and the scientific nature of common prosperity reflect each other, confirming that Marxism is the scientific truth guiding China's development.

3. "Practice the Original Aspiration and Fulfill the Mission" And the History of Common Prosperity

Xi Jinping stressed "As soon as the CPC was born, it has established it as its original mission to seek happiness for the Chinese people and rejuvenation for the Chinese nation" [3] To achieve this mission, our Party has, together with the Chinese people, made great achievements in the new-democratic revolution, socialist revolution and construction, and reform and opening up, and has entered a new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Common prosperity is synchronized with the birth of the Party. The Communist Party of China has achieved common prosperity of all the people since its birth. Realizing common prosperity is the essential requirement of the leadership of the Communist Party of China and China's socialist system. [4] Party leadership for the great victory of new democracy and socialist revolution, laid the system and economic foundation for common prosperity, socialist construction and reform and opening up provides wealth support for common prosperity, the party practice of beginner's mind and mission is the road to promote the path of common prosperity, the history of the communist party of China in one hundred is our party led the people strive to achieve common prosperity in one hundred journey. Therefore, the great party-building spirit has the same logical starting point as common prosperity, and constantly enriches its own connotation with the struggle of the Communist Party of China.

4. "Not Afraid of Sacrifice, Brave Struggle" And Common Prosperity Will Be Sympathetic

The courage to make a revolution is the spiritual characteristic of a Marxist political party. "The great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation can not be achieved easily by beating drums and gongs. We must have the courage to carry out great struggles with many new historical features," [5] Since its birth, the Communist Party of China has never stopped fighting, and it has never been afraid of sacrifice. The centenary history of the Party is the history of the Party's struggle, and the glorious history of the Communist Party's struggle. The great party-building spirit profoundly highlights the Party's fighting and revolutionary nature, and reflects the revolutionary will of the Communists to be the first. Common prosperity is the historical mission of the Party and the cause of the people that the CPC has fought for and sacrificed. After the party's struggle in one hundred, common prosperity by slow start into solid progress stage, our party faces the internal and external environment is different in the past, but the communist party struggle will have no change, we must promote all the people common prosperity in a more important position, down-to-earth, for a long time to work, toward this goal more positive efforts.[6]The will to struggle runs through the Party's hundred years of struggle, inspiring Communists to fight for the people's great revolution, construction and reform. At the same time, providing an enduring spiritual pillar for common prosperity, and enabling the CPC to promote common prosperity with indomitable will and proud perseverance.

5. "Loyalty to the Party and Live Up to The People" And the Goal of Common Prosperity

Party spirit and people's nature are the unique qualities of Chinese Communists. Loyalty to the Party is the primary political quality of communists.[7]Party spirit provides a fundamental guarantee for the CPC to lead the revolution, so that all Party members are closely around the CPC and provide fresh vitality for our Party. The nature of the people bears on the foundation of the Party's governance. The foundation of the CPC, blood and strength of the CPC lie in the people,[8]The people are the most determined force of the revolutionary cause. The realization of common prosperity is based on the leadership of the Communist Party of China, divorced from the leadership of the Party, the cause will lose its direction. The continuous progress of common prosperity cannot be achieved without the strength of the people, and the overwhelming majority of the people are always the promoters of common prosperity. The ultimate goal of common prosperity is to achieve free and all-round human development. In the final analysis, this development focuses on the people. The essence of striving for common prosperity is striving for the people, and the goal of common prosperity is for the development of the people. The spirit of building the Party emphasizes the popular nature of the CPC and always reminds Communists not to forget the original aspiration of the people. Common prosperity also requires taking the people as the goal-orientation and upholding the path to their happiness. Therefore, the great founding spirit of the Party and common prosperity aims the people, and in the final analysis, is for the happiness and development of the people.

6. Conclusion

The fourth volume of Xi Jinping on The Governance of China published, with the founding in one hundred, and in the second, third, four chapters respectively from the leadership of the party, people first, dare to struggle again expounds the founding spirit important connotation, and leads to the "solid promote common prosperity" goal, shows that the founding spirit and the inherent correlation between common prosperity.
