

Joshua Stump

In October She Called

The dust hung
in the mid
morning
light

I sat there
when she came through the cedars

with nothing on her swaying
mind

The wings beat
the air
or my eyes

like wings lids thunderous against the coming
waves