

---

LIFE LINE

Marcelo Fraga de Sousa is a Brazilian Chemical Engineer, who has been working in the Leather Industry for the past 17 years. He began his career at Braspelco Tannery in Brazil, where he worked for more than 6 years in Production, Technical, Quality and Environmental Control and Product Development. In 2003 Marcelo joined Novozymes where worked for 2 years as Technical Coordinator, offering support to tanneries and chemical industries on the Americas. Since 2005 Marcelo has been working for Buckman in Brazil, where he is now Technology Manager for the Southern Cone, being in charge of development of new products, services and technical support.

---