ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This volume of proceedings contains papers from the tenth conference on Semantics and Linguistic Theory, held on June 2-4, 2000, at Cornell University.

The first annual SALT conference met at Cornell University in April of 1991. After ten years it was a great pleasure to host SALT here at Cornell once again. Neither the SALT X conference nor this volume would have come together without the efforts of the conference organizers, Molly Diesing and Sally McConnell-Ginet. Many thanks to them for their hard work, to the reviewers who had the difficult job of choosing a few abstracts out of the many submitted, and to the Cornell semantics community for their enthusiastic participation.

Crucial funding and other support was provided by Cornell's Department of Linguistics, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Department of Philosophy, and the Cognitive Studies Program. We thank them for their generous assistance.

Finally, our thanks to CLC Publications, Devon Strolovitch, Sheila Haddad and Angie Tinti and most of all to the authors herein for making this publication possible.
