Editorial Policy

The JOURNAL OF TEACHING WRITING is devoted to writing pedagogy throughout the curriculum — from kindergarten to college, from the science class to the literature class. It is committed to the teaching of composition and language skills and the relationship of writing to reading, speaking, and learning. The Editor is interested in considering manuscripts that relate to ways writing is taught or understood: for instance, composition theory, cognitive development, evaluation of skills, revision, literature and composition, business writing, creative writing, curriculum development, and innovative teaching techniques. Articles from language arts teachers, middle and secondary school teachers, and college instructors are welcome. Typewritten papers, doublespaced, with notes and citations on separate pages, also doublespaced, should be submitted in duplicate, accompanied by a stamped return envelope. Manuscripts should follow MLA form, incorporating footnotes in the text whenever possible. Author's name and address should appear only on a separate title page. These steps facilitate our policy of anonymous manuscript review and the prompt return of unused materials. Correspondence regarding editorial matters should be addressed to the Assistant Editor, JOURNAL OF TEACHING WRITING, Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, 425 Agnes Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.

THE JOURNAL — its editor and editorial board, sponsor, and publisher — disclaim responsibility for statements of fact or opinion appearing in the pages of the magazine.
