

People in the News

Thomas D. Kilton, German languages specialist at the Modern Languages and Linguistics Library of the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign (UIUC), is participating in an ALA/United States Information Service project to assist libraries in the former German Democratic Republic. During his six-week visit from April to June, Kilton will be visiting with librarians and conducting workshops in Greifswald, Rostock, Neubrandenburg, Halle, and Dresden. His trip is also being cosponsored by the UIUC Library's C. Walter and Gerda B. Mortenson Center for International Library Programs.

Linda K. Bartley, CONSER Program coordinator at the Library of Congress (LC), has received the annual Bowker/Ulrich's Serials Librarianship Award for 1992 for her outstanding achievements and accomplishments in the field of serials librarianship. For her first five years at LC, Bartley was head of the National Serials Data Program, the U.S. center for the ISSN. For the past ten years, she has coordinated the policy and operational aspects of the Cooperative Online Serials (CONSER) Program. Among the achievements for which Bartley was honored are her promotion nationally of the ISSN, the launching of a project to enter abstracting and indexing coverage in CONSER records, the development of the CONSER Editing Guide, and her leadership role in helping focus attention on significant serials management issues such as those under the label "multiple versions."

Linda Bartley

John David Marshall received the 1992 Tennessee Library Association (TLA) Honor Award for "his significant contribution to the improvement of library service in Tennessee" at the TLA annual conference in Chattanooga. Marshall is university bibliographer/professor at the Todd Library, Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro.

Carolyn T. Wilson received the 1992 Frances Neel Cheney Award for "outstanding contributions to the world of books and librarianship" from the Tennessee Library Association at its annual conference in Chattanooga. Wilson is collection development librarian at David Lipscomb University in Nashville.

William A. Moffett, director of the Huntington Library in San Marino, California, and past-president of ACRL, has been named honorary doctor of laws by Davidson College, Davidson, North Carolina. A 1954 graduate of Davidson, Moffett was awarded the honor "because you have lived and espoused well the life of a scholar and teacher, and because you have assumed the mantle of leadership among those librarians who serve the scholar and teacher, and because you have remained firm in our constitutionally guaranteed right for a free people to have free access to information." Moffett received the award in April.

William A. Moffett

Appointments

(Appointment notices are taken from library newsletters, letters from personnel offices and appointees, and other sources. To ensure that your appointment appears, write to the Editor, C&RL News, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611-2795.)

David F. Bishop, university librarian at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, since 1987, has been named university librarian at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, effective July 1, 1992. Bishop previously served as director of libraries at the University of Georgia, Athens, for eight years; as assistant director for technical services at the University of Chicago for five years; and as head of systems and programming at the University of Maryland from 1970-73. Active in ALA, the Center for Research Libraries, and the Association of Research Libraries, Bishop has also served on numerous ACRL committees and task forces and has been a member of the EDUCOM board of trustees since 1988. He received his bachelor's degree from the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester in 1959, his MLS from Catholic University of America in 1964, and has done graduate work in mathematics and computer science at the University of Maryland.

David Bishop

Photo credit: Terry Maher

Robert Clarke has been appointed director of libraries for the city of Hialeah, Florida. Clarke received his MLS and Ph.D. in library service from Rutgers University. He has held positions as analyst and deputy chief of technical services at the National Library of Medicine; founding chief of library services at the Special Information Center of the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health-pioneering; special assistant to the director for biomedical communications at the Bureau of Drugs, U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA); and director of both the Mental Health Study Center Library and the Foods Library at the FDA. He also served at the National Institutes of Health Library assisting Nobel laureates and fellow researchers with information needs.

Robert Clarke

James Fox, social studies librarian at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale (SIUC), has been appointed director for reference services and collection management there. Fox joined the staff at SIUC in 1975 as assistant social studies librarian and became head of the division in 1980. He has served for seven years as a member of the faculty senate. After undergraduate work at Florida State University and four years in Naval Intelligence, Fox received a master's in political science from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC) in 1974, and an MLS from UNC in 1975.

James Fox

Mary Bailey has been appointed assistant director of public services at the National University Library, San Diego, California.

Dawn Bick has been appointed assistant executive director at the Houston Academy of Medicine-Texas Medical Center Library.

Valerie Bross is now head of cataloging at California State University, Stanislaus.

Marianne D. Burke has been appointed assistant librarian for technical services and head of the Collections Development and Management Department at the Francis A. Countway Library of Medicine, Harvard University, Boston.

Cathy Chiu is the new head of the East Asian Collection at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Zhiwei Bi Denton is a new associate librarian at Ohio Dominican College, Columbus.

Kathleen Repko Devonshire is now library resource specialist at Mercer County Community College, Trenton, New Jersey.

Elaine D. Engst has been named curator of manuscripts in the Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections at Cornell University Libraries, Ithaca, New York.

Jane Forgay has been appointed librarian in the Dana Porter Reference and Collections Development Department at the University of Waterloo, Ontario.

Catherine Geddis has been appointed bibliographic coordinator and reference librarian at the Rutgers University Libraries, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Brian A. Helstein is the new microcomputer systems librarian at the Briscoe Library of the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

Fern Hieb has been named project manager in the Eda Kuhn Loeb Music Library at Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Michael Hopper has been named Islamic studies librarian at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Kriza Jennings is now part-time reference librarian and trainer for public services at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dorothy M. Jobe is the new interlibrary loan/information services librarian at the Briscoe Library of the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

Patricia Johnson has been appointed head of cataloging at Baker Library, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Jill Keiser is now evening library associate at the Greensboro Campus of the Guilford Technical Community College, North Carolina.

Susan Metcalf is now head of reference and access services at the National University Library, San Diego, California.

Mamiko Nakamura is the new Japanese studies librarian at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.

JoAnne Newyear-Ramirez has been appointed life science/undergraduate librarian at the University of Texas at Austin Libraries.

Anne Nolan has been named assistant head of the Reference Department at the Brown University Library, Providence, Rhode Island.

Theresa Norton has been appointed computer services/reference librarian at the Harley E. French Library of the Health Sciences, University of North Dakota School of Medicine, Grand Forks.

Patti Patterson has been named head of the Reference Department at the Nimitz Library of the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland.

Karen Pavone is the new head of technical services at Ohio Dominican College, Columbus.

Karen Pope has joined the staff of the William D. McIntyre Library, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, as government publications librarian.

Oksana Procyk has been appointed catalog librarian (Slavic) at the Brown University Library, Providence, Rhode Island.

Rick E. Provine has been appointed media librarian in Clemons Library at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville.

Tovah Reis is now Medical Library coordinator at the Brown University Library, Providence, Rhode Island.

Janet M. Rutan has been named head of cataloging in the Collections Development and Management Department at the Francis A. Countway Library of Medicine, Harvard University, Boston.

David M. Seaman has been named electronic text coordinator in Alderman Library at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville.

Robert A. Shaddy has been appointed director of the Ward M. Canaday Center for Special Collections at the William S. Carlson Library, University of Toledo, Ohio.

David Shontz is the new head of access services at the Briscoe Library of the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

Charlene Shults is now humanities librarian with a focus on European history at the Alexander Library at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Peter Stern has been named social sciences librarian with a focus on Latin American studies at the Alexander Library of Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Farideh Tehrani has been named head of access services at the Alexander Library at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Linda West has been appointed associate librarian of Harvard College for collections and cataloging, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

N. J. Wolfe is now associate director for information services at the Ehrman Medical Library, New York University Medical Center.

Elizabeth Wu is now systems librarian at the Francis A. Countway Library of Medicine, Harvard University, Boston.

Eveline Yang is now head of the Resource Services Department at Denison Memorial Library, University of Colorado Health Sciences Center, Denver.

Miles Yoshimura is now social sciences librarian at the Alexander Library, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Retirements

John Beverage will retire on July 31, 1992, after 12 years of service at Turpin Library, Dallas Theological Seminary. As public services librarian Beverage managed the move into a new library building and guided the transition to an automated circulation system. Prior to his library service, he was director of admissions for the seminary from 1972 to 1980, and a missionary to Guatemala from 1954 to 1972.

D. Hugh Chisholm, librarian for bibliographer assistance at the University of Texas at Austin General Libraries, retired in March after almost 40 years of service.

Peggy Miller, head of technical services at Ohio Dominican College, Columbus, will retire in July 1992.

Phyllis J. Schoonover has recently retired from Butler University, Indianapolis, where she served as music and fine arts librarian since 1974.

Deaths

Evelyn Butler, chief librarian of the Smalley Library at the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Work from 1946 to 1986, died at her home at Stapeley in Germantown, Philadelphia, on January 25, 1992. Butler also served as head librarian at the University of Michigan Institute of Public and Social Administration from 1938-42, and head librarian at the Business and Technology Department Library of New Britain Institute in Connecticut from 1942-46. A long-time member of ALA, she served on the Middle Atlantic Recruiting Committee and the Ad Hoc Committee on Urban Universities, and was a member of the Delaware chapter of ACRL. Butler also served the Special Libraries Association in many capacities and was a member of the Social Welfare Librarians Group of the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). She was co-compiler of a landmark guide published by CSWE in 1962, Building a Social Work Library.

Butler served as a social work library consultant to many libraries including Howard University in 1962, Hunter College in 1965, Syracuse University in 1967-68, Kings College, London, in 1971, and the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in 1971-72. She earned her degrees of A.B., A.B.L.S., and A.M.L.S. from the University of Michigan.

Wilbur Jordan Smith, former head of the Department of Special Collections in the university library at UCLA, died on March 13 after an extended illness. Smith joined the UCLA library in 1947 and became head of special collections in 1951; he held the position for 20 years. He graduated from Pomona College, the University of Virginia, and Columbia University, and received a library certificate in the last graduating class of the Los Angeles Public Library School in 1932. In the 1930s he worked in bookstores, as a reporter, and in the Research Department at MGM. In 1947 he was appointed gifts and exchange librarian at UCLA, then was promoted to rare books librarian. As head of special collections, Smith's greatest achievement was in the development of the children's book collection referred to recently as "one of the great collections of English-language children's books." In Smith's honor, the UCLA library has established the Wilbur Jordan Smith Memorial Fund for the Children's Book Collection.

Donald Thompson, retired head librarian of Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Indiana, died February 18, 1992, at the age of 78. Thompson received a bachelor's degree from Iowa State University, a BSLS from the University of Illinois, and a master's degree in economics from Temple University. Before becoming head librarian at Wabash in 1955, he worked at Temple University, the University of Alabama, and Mississippi State University. An active member of ALA, Thompson served as ALA Councilor and chair of the College Section. On the state level he served as president of the Mississippi and Indiana Library Associations. A prolific author who frequently contributed to professional journals, Thompson wrote two volumes of Indiana Authors and Their Works and was a regular columnist on local history for the Montgomery County Magazine. ■

Advertiser index

American Library Assn.	393
American Psychological	cover 2
AMIGOS	372
Ballen	401
Blackwell	369
Book House	397
Cambridge Scientific Choice	387
Heckman Bindery	398
Library Corporation	cover 4
Fred B. Rothman	cover 3
Fred B. Rothman	392
K.G. Saur	404
H.W. Wilson	406