See The World Through The Eyes Of The Missionary

Papers of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions on Microfilm

During the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions was involved in activities extending from the Americas to India, Asia, Africa, the Near East, and the Pacific Islands.

Papers of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, filmed from the archive at Harvard University's Houghton Library, represents one of the most significant manuscript collections of primary source material on missionary life, with hundreds of volumes of correspondence, reports, journals, and hand-drawn maps.

Students and researchers will find a wealth of information pertinent to the study of anthropology, political science, religion, education, women's studies, and American studies. Now available in its entirety, Papers of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions has been an ongoing project of Research Publications since 1981.

The collection consists of letters to domestic correspondents, letters to foreign correspondents, and letters from missionaries to Africa, Borneo, Siam, Singapore, China, Japan, India, Ceylon, Mandura, the Near East, the American Continents, and the Islands of the Pacific.

The complete collection contains 858 reels and is priced at $30,400. Prices slightly higher outside U.S. and Canada.
