The 6th International Evidence Based Library and Information Practice Conference (EBLIP6) will take place June 27-30, 2011, at the University of Salford, UK.

- o Are you a library or information practitioner?
- o Interested in discovering research for professional decision making?
- o Do you want to know more about using evidence based approaches in your own practice?
- o Are you being encouraged to evaluate or demonstrate the value and impact of your service?
- o Have you got some research or good practice to share?

Then the 6th international Evidence Based Library and Information Practice (EBLIP6) conference is for you!

Through workshops, presentations and discussion, EBLIP6 will provide a practical and accessible forum for librarians and information practitioners from all sectors to discover and disseminate evidence that may contribute to decision making in professional practice.

Previous EBLIP conferences have been held in Sheffield, Canada, Australia, USA and Sweden. Returning to the UK, the University of Salford is proud to host the sixth Evidence Based Library and Information Practice conference.

The University is based one mile outside the city of Manchester and has a rich history stretching back to 1896. As one of the world's first industrial cities Salford has many historic achievements including the world's first free public library.
