

EDITORIAL

Volume 2, Number 1 of the Journal of the South African Logopedic Society marks an important step forward in the history of the South African Logopedic Society, for this is the first time that the Journal has been printed.

The Committee would like to put forward the suggestion that the Society publishes four journals a year. This would prove of advantage to members and advertisers.

In order to produce more journals we must have far more co-operation from members in the form of articles, case histories, book reviews, etc.

We must not regress, but must publish more journals per annum. We need your help, please do not fail us.

SHEILA G. DEVELING.
